EAGLE HILL EQUINE RESCUE
INFORMATION BOARDS
EAGLE SCOUT PROJECT
MATTHEW T. HARRIS
TROOP 1422

I am a 16-year-old Life Scout with Troop 1422, based out of the American Legion Post 320. My Eagle Scout project is to construct twelve covered information boards at Eagle Hill Equine Rescue.

Eagle Hill Equine Rescue is a non-profit organization is located just 5 miles east of Chancellorsville Battlefield in Fredericksburg, Virginia. The rescue has a wide variety of horses and nurse mare foals, and a few miniature horses. They are rescued in hopes that they will find their forever homes rather than the auction block.

The roof covered information boards will be placed in front of each pasture. The covered information boards will hold index cards and a picture for each one of the horses. The index cards will have the name, gender, age, breed, status, and adoption status of the horse.

These information boards will provide a much needed service by assisting volunteers and educating potential owners with up-to-date information on all of the horses in each of the many pastures on the farm.

I started my project in October, but am still in need of additional donations to complete my project. This is a very challenging project in terms of the amount of material needed and the labor required, and I know I can get this done. Eagle Hill Equine Rescue is a wonderful place and I look forward to being able to make it a better place.

With the generous support of friends, family and businesses so far, I have led work teams of six to ten people in the installation of all of the support post in the ground and have built and painted four of the twelve information boards. I have lots of enthusiastic laborers, but am in need of materials. I am continuing to explore local businesses for material and monetary donations. HOWEVER, if YOU can help I would be VERY APPRECIATIVE. Please send an email to angwh@aol.com if you can help. I will continue to update the need material list below so you can see what's needed.

I am also providing a rendering so that you are able to see what I am hoping each information board will look like upon completion.

Thanks for your support,

Matt
